33 Days to Morning Glory

Preparation of the Consecration to Jesus through Mary

With just fifteen minutes a day, April 28 - May 31, this is a beautiful opportunity to support each other in prayer. See details below:

With just a short fifteen minute daily reading, 33 Days to Morning Glory by Fr. Michael Gaitley is a way to prepare our hearts for consecration to Jesus through Mary. It is described as a "power-packed and updated form of Marian consecration" with reflections and teaching from four spiritual giants beginning with St. Louis De Montfort, the first great apostle of Marian consecration, and contemporary Marian experts St. Maximillian Kolbe, Blessed Mother Teresa of Calcutta, and soon to be Saint John Paul II.

The Marian Consecration is for those who desire to make the consecration for the first time and for those who would like to renew it. It can be done in several ways:

- Individually according to you to your own schedule
- As a family each evening or by organizing a group of friends or other families once per week
- Together at Holy Family at 9:15a.m. and 6:30p.m. on Wednesdays. We will meet for approx. one hour on April 30, May 7, May 14, May 21 and May 28. This will include a DVD presentation by the author Fr. Gaitley and group discussion.

Materials:

- 33 Days to Morning Glory - you may already have this book, have a friend from whom you can borrow it, buy it online at Amazon.com, or at a local Catholic bookstore. You may also purchase it at http://www.allheartsafire.org/

- Workbook companion (optional) - this can be purchased through the website http://www.allheartsafire.org/. If you are meeting at Holy Family, you may want to purchase this workbook as a discussion guide.

Let us commit to supporting each other in prayer even if we make this consecration independent of one another. If you have any questions, contact Mary Hagen at hagens7hm@usfamily.net
